Institutional Strategy and Development Plan

Onda Thana Mahavidyalaya has evolved into a large multidisciplinary educational institution since its inception. It aims to serve the needs of the local community by providing facilities for quality education catering to a wide variety of students with different social, economic, and religious backgrounds. The institution seeks to implement various innovative forms of teaching and activities to enable the students to thrive not only in academics and research activities, but also in character building, personality development, leadership, and co-curricular activities. This includes developing awareness for gender equality and conservation of the environment for societal development.

The institution has set up certain goals and designed an institutional plan for balanced growth in line with its vision and mission. The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) plays an important role in designing developmental plans, and policies, and implementing them in the academic and administrative sectors of the institution. For quality enhancement, IQAC prepares an Action Plan based on stakeholder feedback for the realization of institutional goals at the beginning of each session and consistently monitors the fulfilment of the Action Plan.

The participatory role of the stakeholders is crucial in the implementation and execution of strategic plans across all areas of the institution. Suggestions from meetings in different functional committees are incorporated to accomplish a strategic plan for holistic education of students and to make them socially responsive citizens for the future.
